School Violence Prevention Program (SVPP)

- Eligible Applicants: States, units of local government, public K-12s, and Indian tribes.
- Potential Partners: School districts, nonprofit organizations, private schools, charter schools, or tribal organizations.

OVW

Office on Violence Against Women
Working Together to End the Violence

Reduce Sexual Violence on Campus Program

- Eligible Applicants: Institutions of higher education.
- Potential Partners: On-campus agencies, off-campus agencies (e.g. law enforcement, clinics, health care providers, legal assistance).

What if a Partnership is not a Proposal Requirement?

Potential Perks of a Partnership:

- Share resources.
- Reduce duplication of efforts.
- Accomplish mutual goals.
- Create cost savings.
- Build a well-rounded project.

- Be purposeful in selecting project partners.
- Plan an introductory meeting.
- Loop in project partners BEFORE the program is fully planned.

- Define metrics for success.
- Outline roles for each member.
 - Select a grant team champion.
 - Plan for smaller teams – Who will get the real work done?
- Draft Letters of Support and/or Memoranda of Understanding.

- Pledge to regular stakeholder meetings.
- Centralize access to information.
- Thank and congratulate each other on key milestones.

Strong partners that make solid, specific contributions to a grant-funded project can put your proposal in the lead when all other aspects are held equal.
