KEYNOTES

KEYNOTE DAY ONE

Sponsored by:  telcor

JULY 22, 2021 | 8:00 AM - 10:00 AM

Active Shooter: Preparedness and Prevention Strategies That Will Impact Response

John Iannarelli, FBI Special Agent (Ret.), JI Consulting Group

In his informative and entertaining keynote presentation, John Iannarelli will engage the audience with scenarios to raise their situational awareness. Attendees will hear behind-the-scenes stories of what really happened during the Las Vegas shooting, the shooting of Congresswoman Gabby Giffords, Virginia Tech and other incidents to include how they were planned, how law enforcement responded, and how important clues were missed that could have prevented these and other tragedies. John's experience from being on location during and following these active shooter events has given him inside knowledge on which no one else can speak about at this time. Although this topic is extremely serious, John's presentation will bring a light heartedness to appropriately break the tension of this topic.

KEYNOTE DAY TWO

Sponsored by:  ASR
Alert Systems

JULY 23, 2021 | 8:00 AM - 9:15 AM

Post-COVID Concerns: Threat Assessments, Domestic Violence, and Suicidal Behavior

Dorian Van Horn, Senior Vice President for Investigative Operations, SIGMA Threat Management Associates LLC

Dorian Van Horn will discuss post-COVID concerns about abuse, anger, and suicidal behaviors and how to incorporate those concerns in threat assessment investigations. Investigations can involve ongoing safety concerns to victim(s), to others on campus, to other campuses as well as to school and university personnel. Collaboration is essential when there is a concern for an escalation of violence involving domestic violence, stalking and/or suicidal ideations. Coordination can, and should, incorporate trauma-informed interviewing. This session will help you develop workable solutions for enhancing information-sharing and integrated safety efforts.
